

SAVE THE DATES

“Developing Virtual Facilitation Skills”

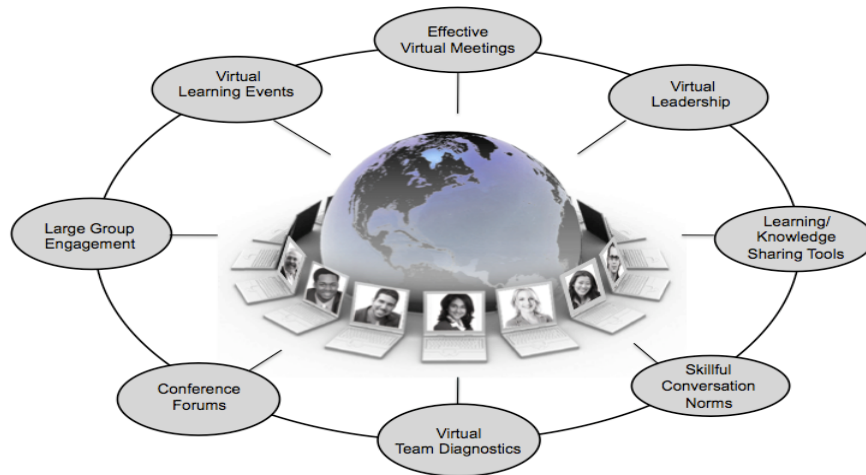

A how-to training series on creating virtual meetings & events

October 19, 21 & 26

8-10am MT; 10-12 ET; 3-5 GMT

- Do you need to lead team meetings via the phone or web?
- Are you ready to deliver your training, meeting or coaching skills beyond face-to-face?
- Would you like to learn & practice virtual facilitation techniques?
- Do you wonder how to achieve what you are good at ... virtually?

If so, learn from global experts how to design and implement your meetings, practice new techniques with coaching support, in this exciting series of 3 training modules.

Register now to make use of our early bird discount!

$625 by September 22 - $675 thereafter

Includes 6 hour interactive workshop, personal coaching, materials and telecom costs

To reserve your seat or ask questions, email us at info@newwaysforward.com

Sue Brightman

An Vandermeersch

Fiona
Henderson

As global facilitators, coaches and change agents, we have helped thousands of leaders and teams achieve their desired transformations over the last 25 years. Our clients include Fortune and FTSE 500 executives and front line operations employees from 50 countries worldwide including IT, financial services, healthcare, education, energy, auto industries, and not-for-profits.

We are experts at enabling people to connect across geographies, cultures and timezones to achieve shared goals. In addition to offering breakthrough coaching, we have designed and led over 150 virtual skill-building programs, and numerous global leader forums and virtual team conferences including the famous World Café process. We are passionate about helping every individual and organization achieve full potential.

